

To unlock your device you must firstly press the power button or the home button and swipe the slide to unlock section at the bottom of the screen.

Locate the App Store application and tap it once, your layout may be different to mine.

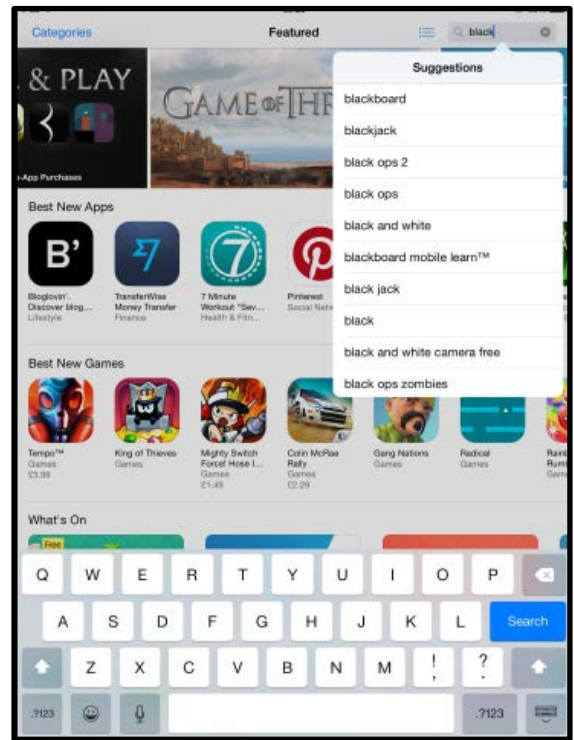

This is what the app store looks like, as you can see it is split into sections. For example new apps and children's.

Use the search button at the top to search for specific Apps.

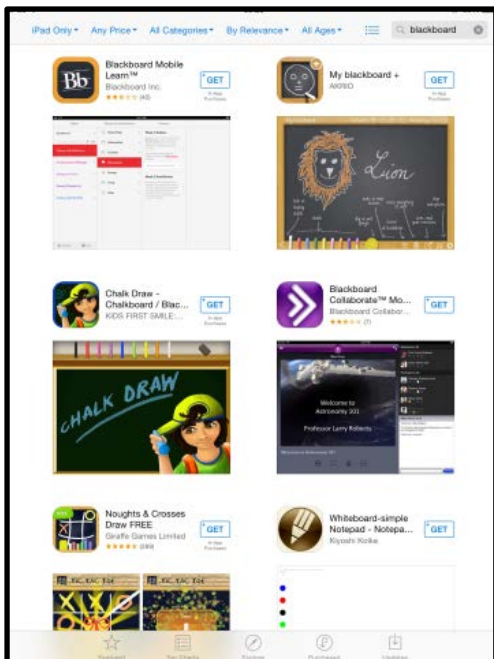

When you tap the search box a keyboard will appear on your screen, use this to start searching for your app.

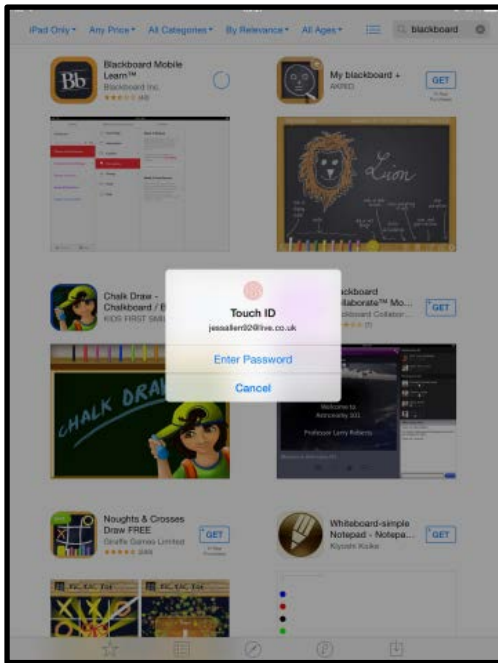

The App Store will show you suggestions of what it thinks you want, if it doesn't show your desired app straight away keep typing, when it does show up simply tap it once.

This is the results page from your search, once you have located your app simply tap the get button located next to it once.

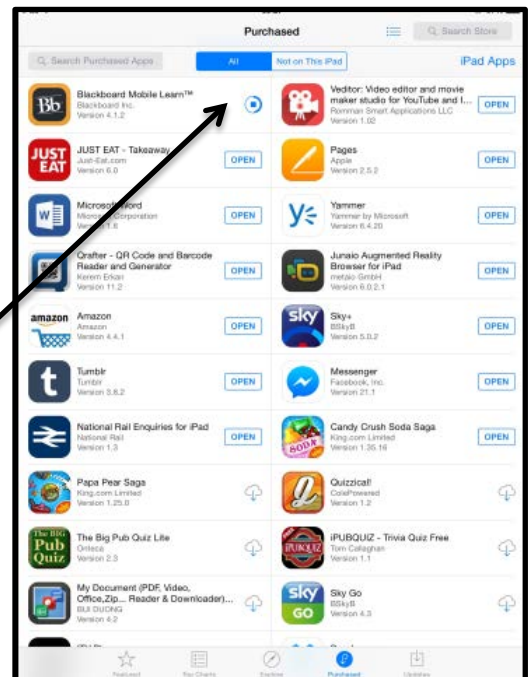

The downloading process will then begin.

You will then be required to confirm the purchase even if the app is free, if you have a iPhone 5s or after, an iPad Air2 or after or an iPad mini 3 or after you will be able to use your Touch ID older models will ask for your Apple account password.

Your app will then begin downloading, you can see when it is complete by the progress circle. Once this is complete it will appear on your home screen as the last installed app.

Here is the newly downloaded app, to open it just tap it once.
